From the Tamina Info panel take the right path, down to the waterfall. In 1 minute you should reach "Cascada" sector.

For routes no 1 and 2 looking at the "Michelangelo" route, turn around 180 degrees and go down, 20 meters. La messe follows the crack on the left of the boulder. Prolog starts a bit on the right and matches La messe at the 4th bolt.

The variante "La promesse" starts in Prolog and go left at the second bolt to meet "La messe". It is proposed 8a+.

Miscellaneous

Precautions :

The routes being new and the rock being loose in some parts, it is quite common to see stones falling from the top or from the routes. An accident already took place there and we advice you to wear an helmet while belaying and to stay far from the crag when you are not climbing.

Chipped holds :

In Tamina you may find a few consolidated holds due to the rock being sometimes loose but none of the routes has been chipped. You are welcome to bolt new routes but no chipped holds will be admitted on the site.

Biscuits :

All the routes have been graded if climbed in proper style meaning : Without pre-clipping. The route "mon ami" is proposed 7c+ if pre-clipped "Burling legion first part" 7c and "Hot fingers" 8a , for the others we let you assess the difficulty if you want to climb them pre-clipped.

Without cheat stones : the only routes not starting from the ground are "Burning legion" and "Mon ami" where you start from a boulder. Short people usually uses a cheat stone to reach the crimp of "Burning legion" with left hand.

Projects :

Many projects are bolted in Tamina. There are open projects, however if you climb one of them please let us know in order to update the topo.

Variants :

The route "Mica sirena" is graded 7b+ if going right to get the blunt arete. It has also been climbed straight and it is given 7c.

A link between "Prolog" and "La messe" has been climbed. From the second bolt of "Prolog" you traverse left to the big hold of "La messe" and then finish climbing in "La messe". That variant is called "La promesse" and is graded 8a+.
